Bill Bidwell, Lantern staff advisor, announces awards preceding John Froome's address.

The Lantern Staff

Increased enrollment in the journalism department for the year has produced an enlarged newspaper with greater departmentalization. Added to the regular sections have been those in arts and review and in society, as well as additional feature stories. Students write, edit, and make up the newspaper, of which 1,800 copies — more than some small town weeklies — are printed on a web offset press.

The staff received for the 1971 spring semester publication a first class honor rating from the National Critical Service of Associated Collegiate Press, of which it is a member. No higher award is granted on score book points alone. Marks of distinction were editorial writing and news writing-editing.

The Grizzly Staff

Rita Fehrenbach works on layouts with the assistance of Miss Kuhlmann, adviser.

Christmas Concert

The Collegiate Singers, assisted by the college chorus and directed by Mr. Dixon, entertained an unexpectedly large audience with a Christmas concert on Sunday afternoon, December 13, in the college cafeteria and student union lounge.

Children guests impatiently await the arrival of Santa Claus.

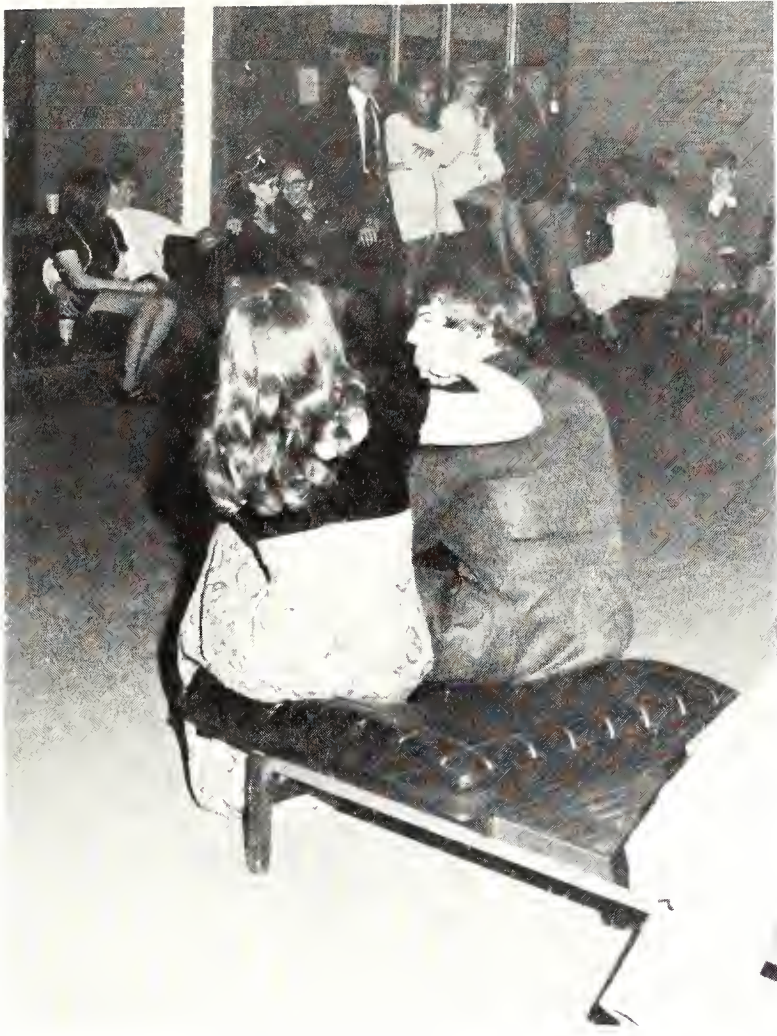

"The children were nestled all snug in their beds . . ."

"While mama in her kerchief and I in my cap . . ."

The Collegiate Singers, appearing in new pink attire, were enthusiastically received in the Christmas concert which closed with a dramatic presentation of "The Night Before Christmas."

Students visit in the lounge during intermission.

Christmas Dance

Student council members sponsored a semi-formal dance in the student union cafeteria on December 11. A seasonal theme, "The Night Before Christmas," was effectively carried out with a variety of appropriate decorations, including a large centrally located lighted tree. "The Magpies" from Wichita provided music for the occasion.

The Butler County Community Junior College forensics squad worked diligently toward the completion of the most successful season in the forty-three years of its active program.

The teams, under the direction of Coach Mike Hadley, brought home thirteen awards during the first semester (the previous record was seventeen for an entire year.) Second semester tournaments were also rewarding.

Highlighting the season's accomplishments was the winning of third place in the International Tournament of Champions, held at Laredo, Texas; and the winning of first place in debate at Kansas State University, fourth place in debate at Central State College, and fourth place in varsity debate at the University of Nebraska. Other awards were received for individual distinction.

In addition to competitive excellence the squad hosted two intercollegiate debate tournaments, providing facilities for thirty other colleges and universities.

This year's squad has been one of the largest in the program's history. Of the ten active members, seven will return to the college, next year, giving promise for perhaps an even better year.

Lecture-Artist Series Initiated

Under the recommendation of Mr. William C. Cummins, newly appointed Dean of Student Services, the Board of Trustees arranged to provide a lecture-artist series of programs as a student and community service project for this past school year. The American Program Bureau of Boston, that manages the series, provided three interesting and varied programs which were well received.

Bill Russell, first player-coach in Boston sports history and the first Negro to manage full time in a major league of any sport, appeared on Campus October 19 for what he called a "rap" session with the audience. After leading his Boston Celtics team to ten world championships in twelve years, he is dedicated today to securing equal rights and human dignity for every individual.

Colonel John H. Glenn, who ten years ago in February was America's first man to orbit the earth, spoke to a responsive audience on January 25. Speaking on the general theme of progress, Glenn cited the space program as the only area of man's travel experiences without the involvement of fighting and expressed a hope that international cooperation might be achieved through continued research in space.

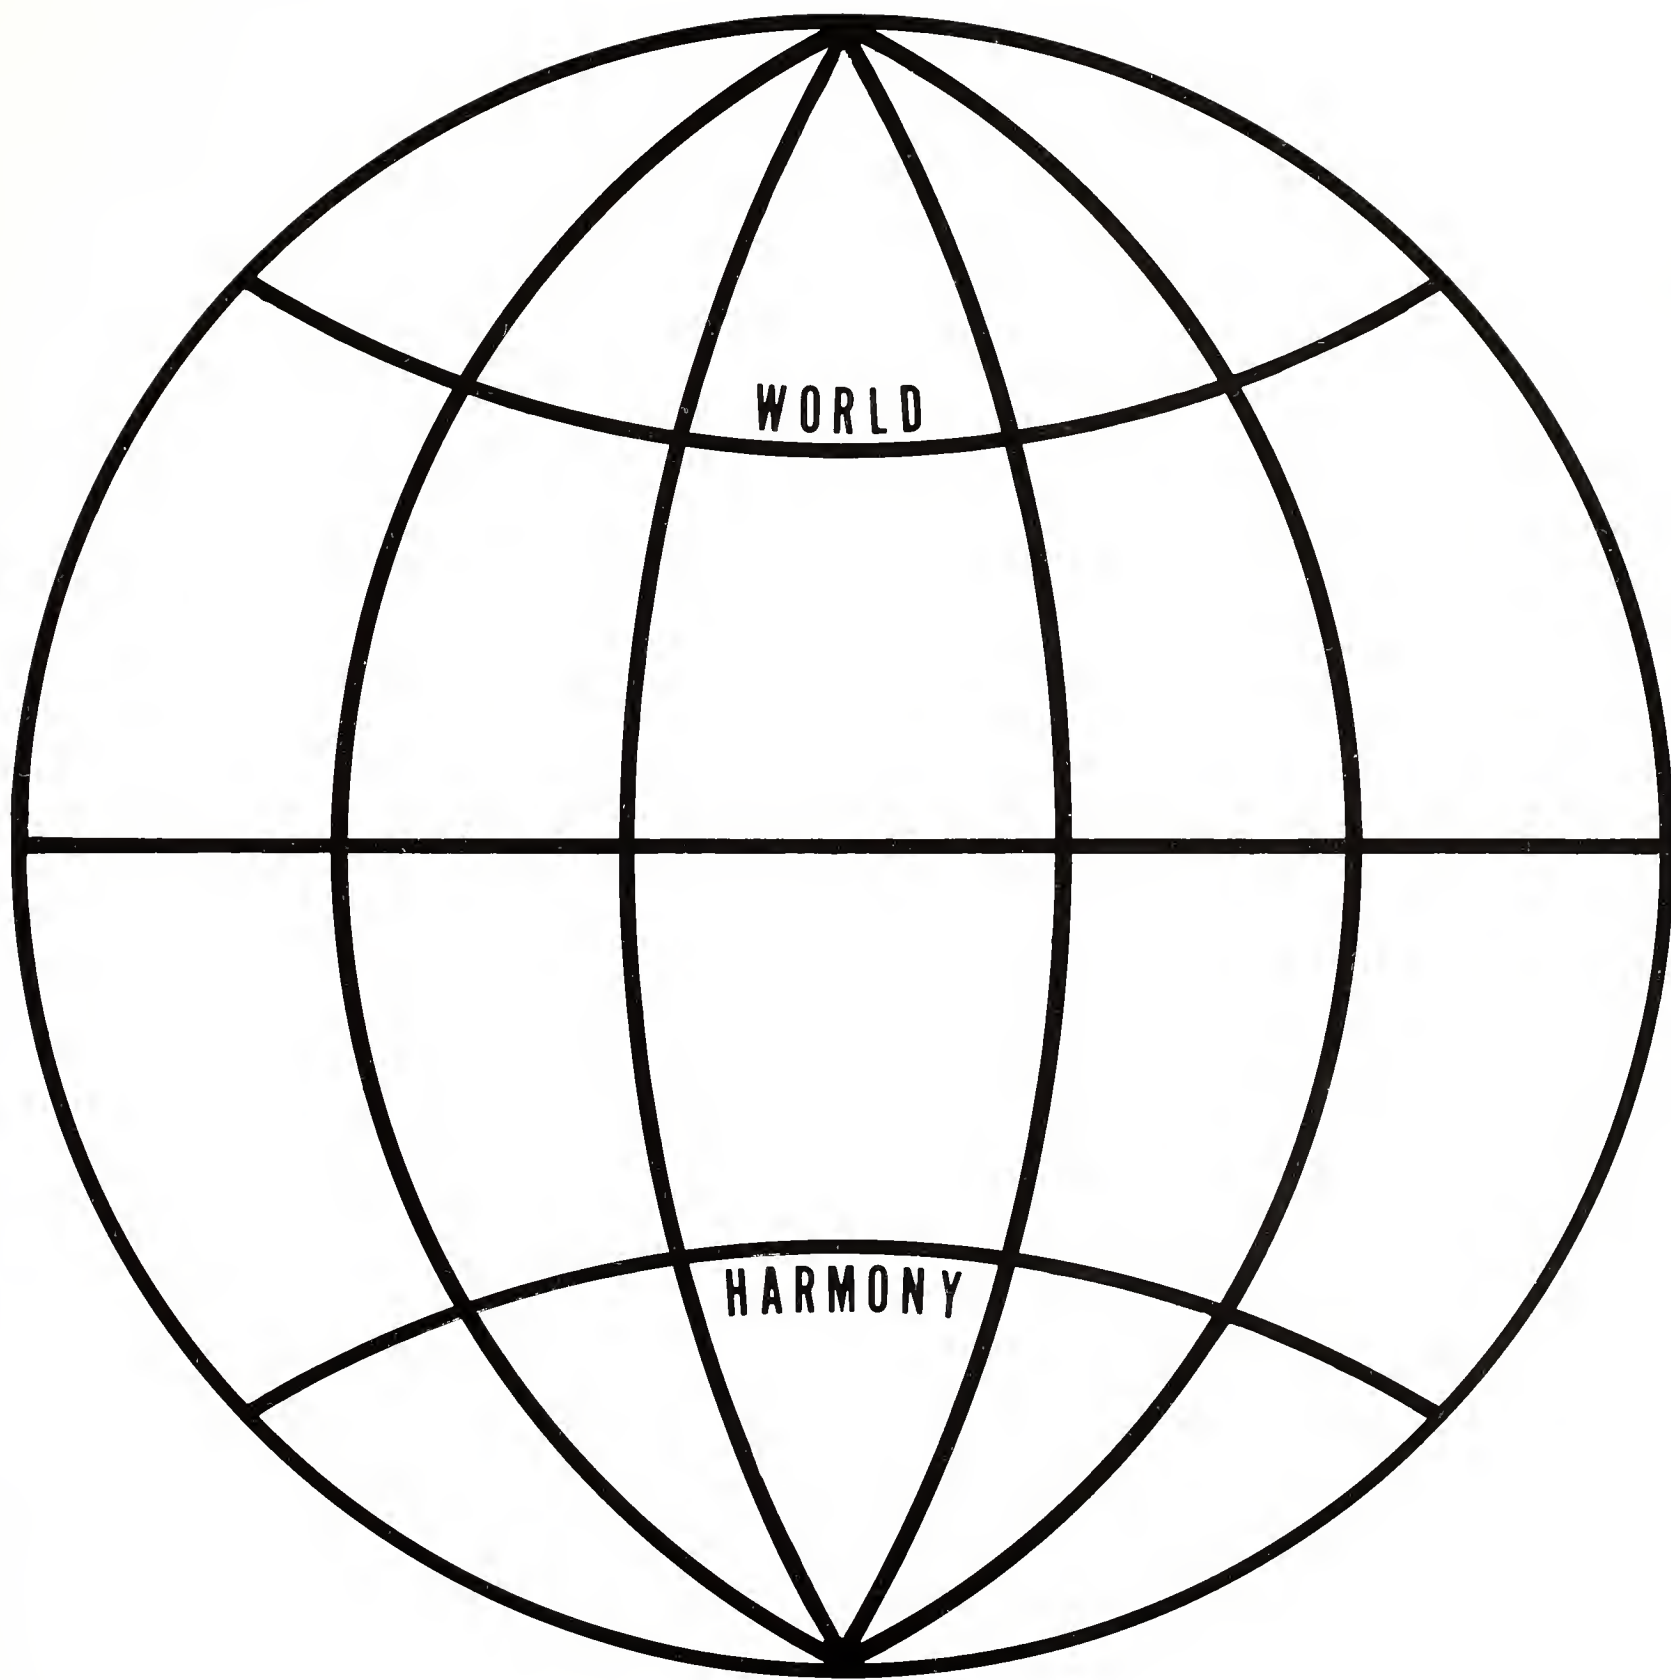

On April 13, Tom Noel, highly acclaimed actor portraying Mark Twain, charmed and informed his audience with music, dialogue, and commentary, and stimulated a new interest in the life and works of Mark Twain.

John Glenn is welcomed to campus by Danny Creed and Dean Cummins.

Grizzlies Display Comeback Attitude

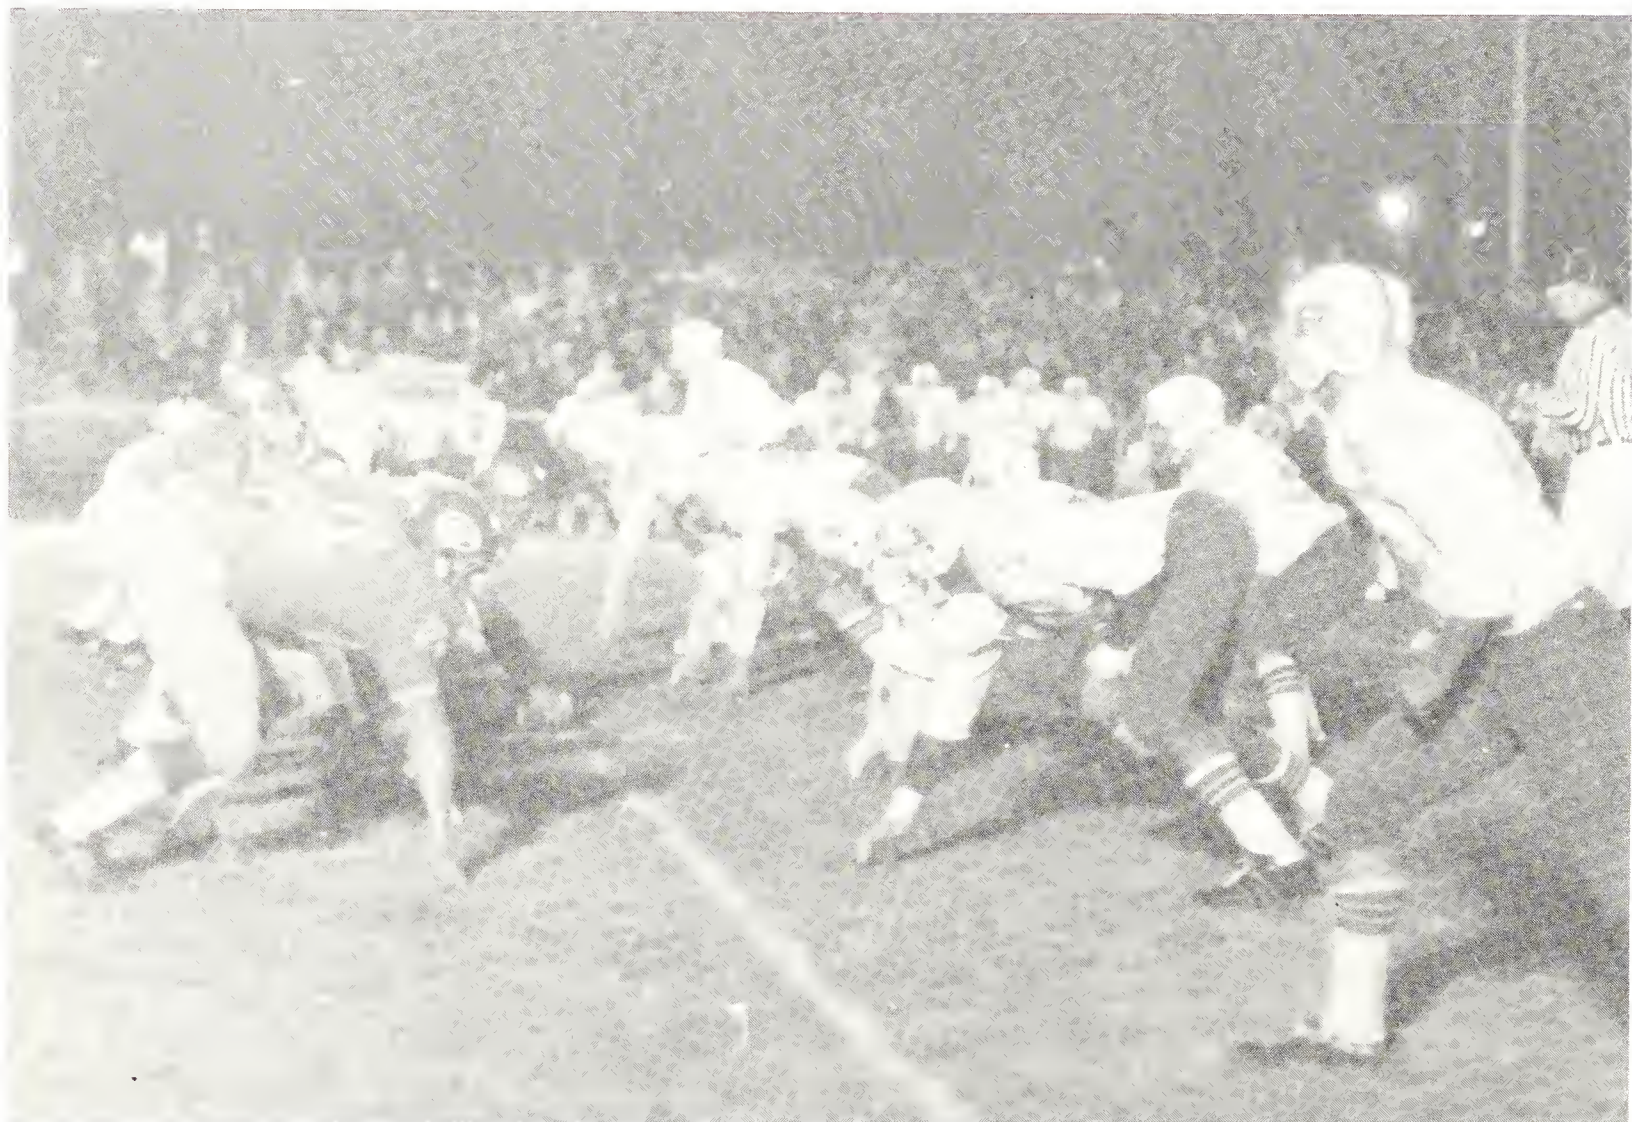

Coach Shottel described the 1971 football season as "exciting and challenging". With a record of four wins and six losses, the team displayed a great desire to win in all of their games. The great comeback attitude displayed in the Homecoming game will long be remembered by the Grizzly fans. Butler County came from a 21-0 deficit at the end of the first half to score a smashing 39-33 defeat against Independence.

With only 10 sophomores on the squad, the season was one in which a great many freshmen gained valuable experience. The Grizzlies relied heavily on their defense and used passing as a tremendous weapon. The result was winning the Grizzly Bowl and a second in League passing.

Football "Tackle" Makes Conference First Team

Ed Briggs was named to the All-Jayhawk Conference team as defensive tackle. Receiving honorable mention on the offense were Bill Townsley, split end; and Dave Beckner, quarterback. Given honorable mention on the defense were Steve Reid, tackle; and Jack Brown, safety.

Each of the ten junior colleges participating in the Jayhawk Conference submitted the names of their most valuable players. The coaches then voted for any player, other than their own, for the Jayhawk Conference team.

Board of Trustees

The board of trustees opened its activities of the school year with a reception in the cafeteria for the school staff.

At the recommendation of William C. Cummins, newly appointed dean of student services, the board approved and financed the lecture series initiated for the benefit of the campus and county community. Bill Russell, former player-coach for the Boston Celtics, "rapped" on October 19. John Glenn, pioneer astronaut, spoke on January 25, and Tom Noel, known for his dramatic portrayal of Mark Twain, closed the series on April 13.

Later in the year the board invited and received acceptances of Butler County residents to serve on a committee of approximately 20 persons for long range planning. Primary emphases were to study the present offerings with special attention to the technical area; to suggest offerings which reflect the needs of the students and of the citizens in a two-year college setting; and to arrange in order of priority these needs to be met as the committee sees fit.

Mr. Hittle, newly elected member of the board this year, was made president of the State Board of Trustees Association.

Edwin J. Walbourn

Mr. Edwin J. Walbourn, president of Butler County Community Junior College, has traveled to many parts of the North Central area this past year. Serving as a consultant on evaluation teams, he has visited many junior colleges. Part of his advantage is discovering new practices and techniques that may apply to his own campus. He also has represented the college in numerous conferences and other official tasks as well as welcoming organizations that hold their meetings on the local campus.

Administrative Staff

Dean of Students Services

Dean of Instructional Services

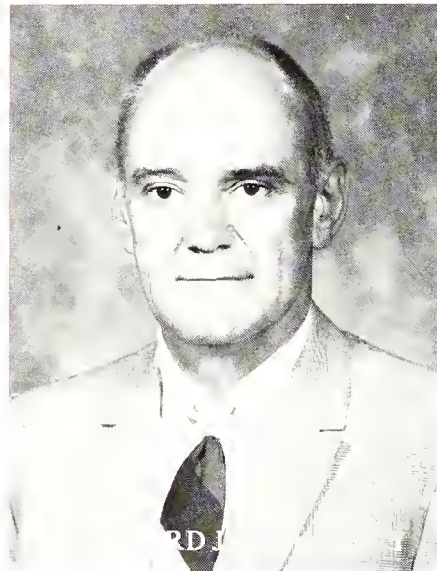

A change in the administrative structure at the college resulted in new assignments for some members of the staff. Dean Cummins, who had been academic dean, became Dean of Student Services. Under his supervision are included the registrar, counseling, admissions, athletics, financial aids, student activities, student housing, the student union, and public relations.

Dean Wilson became Dean of Instructional Services with supervision of the library and of all instructional areas in both day and night programs.

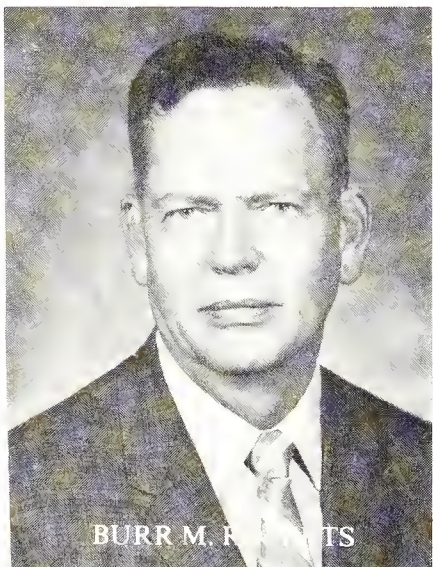

Mr. McKinney was named Director of Research and retained the responsibilities of registrar. He, Mr. Harris, Business Manager, Mr. Roberts, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, and Mrs. Mettler, director of nursing, remain directly responsible to President Walbourn.

Instructional Staff

INSTRUCTIONAL STAFF

Students at Butler County Community Junior College may select courses in a wide variety of disciplines taught by sixty-seven members of the instructional staff.

Student-faculty relationships are developed through discussions related to course work, activity and club experiences, and student-advisee conferences.

Campus Staff

Some campus personnel do not meet the students in a classroom atmosphere, but they hold positions that involve unusually close ties with individuals. Librarians and their assistants are most helpful for all persons browsing for library information. Students seeking employment, vocational guidance, or suitable information for their selection of a four-year college or university find answers to their questions in the counseling center. Athletes turn to the athletic director and dormitory residents to the housemother for consultation; and everybody sooner or later is involved with the manager of the bookstore.

Dorothy Shaw (Mrs.), Assistant to Business Manager.
 Anna B. Staats (Mrs.), Secretary to Nursing Department.
 Mary Louise Stebbins (Mrs.), Secretary to Counseling Center.
 Joyce M. Whiteside (Mrs.), Data Processing Programmer.

Secretarial Staff

Members of the secretarial staff provide able assistance for the various offices on campus. Several changes and additions were made during the past year. Mrs. Rich was employed to supervise all copy work on the Xerox machine. Mrs. Shaw replaced Mrs. Schowalter after the Schowalters adopted a son. Mrs. Lynch replaced Mrs. Parsons in the admissions office, and Mrs. Holladay filled a vacancy in that office.

Maintenance Staff

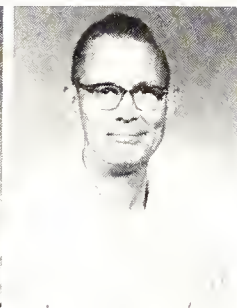

Keeping all areas of the campus attractive in appearance, functional in operation, and comfortable for efficient activity demands a maintenance staff, each of whom is proud of his particular responsibility and performs it with skill and personal pleasantries that endear him to the people with whom he associates. The rapport that the various members of the college maintenance staff have with the students and with other campus personnel is much appreciated. And the attention that they, assisted by a number of student employees, give in providing a campus that is worthy of praise calls for grateful recognition.

Class Officers

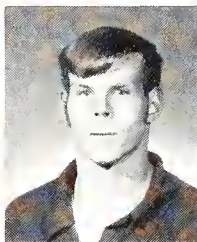

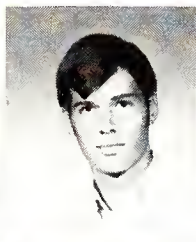

Class officers, elected early in the first semester, hold somewhat of an honorary position at Butler County Community Junior College. Their primary duty is to serve as liaison personnel in student council activities. They represent the 388 sophomores and the 889 freshmen enrolled in the day classes at the college.

Biology students labor over test.

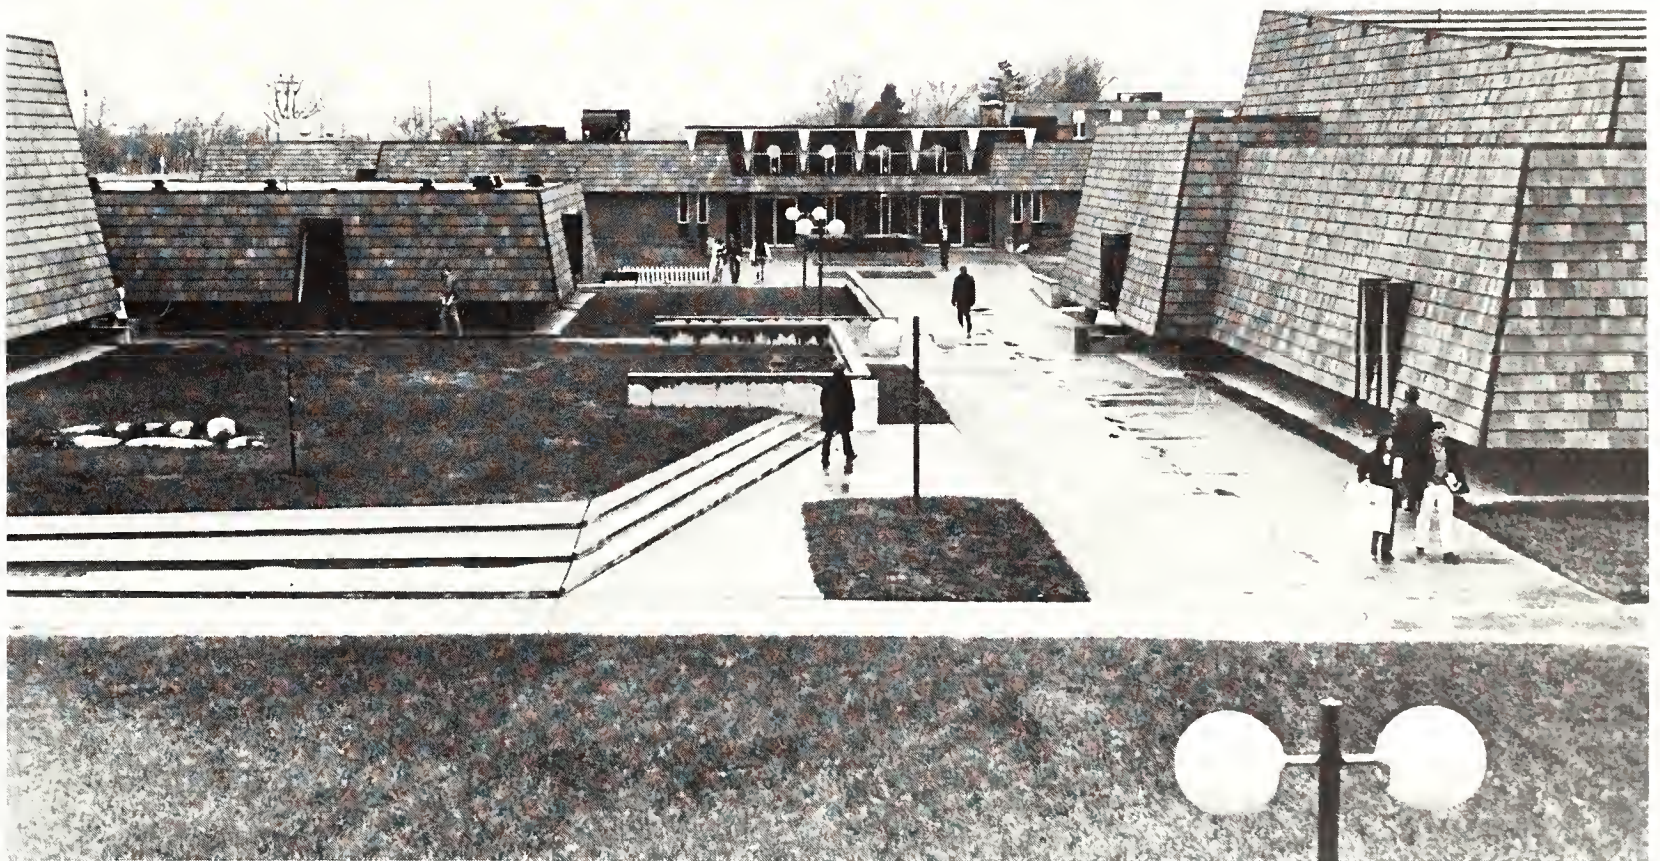

Special Students

A large number of students enroll in day classes on the campus as special students. Many of these students are called "high school specials," who are permitted to supplement their high school study schedules with any college course of their choice — whether a general education course, a vocational course, or a community interest course — without payment of the full campus privilege fees. Although these students are not included in the yearbook, recognition of their accelerated educational achievements is certainly due them.

Other students — some who already have college degrees, and some who are employed full time but choose to enroll in certain courses either for personal enrichment or for a long range goal — mingle with the day students and are included with them in all campus privileges. Among those on campus this year are the students featured below. No doubt others should be included in this group. All of them rightfully deserve consideration of their academic interest.

Esther Cummins Martha Dambach David Foreman Paul Haines Peggy Lackey Zeila Roberts Charles Romero Roberta Ruegnitz

A rainy day doesn't dampen the beauty of the campus.

Acknowledgements

As the final layouts are being prepared and final copy is being written, I look back to the time when this book was just an idea on paper. Since then it has progressed to become a book of memories and good times for each student, faculty member, and staff member here at Butler County Community Junior College.

My year as editor has been a series of memorable frustrations and accomplishments. Publications such as yearbooks are a battle against time with strict schedules to meet. It is a challenge that keeps one driving because he has everything to gain.

Although it is impossible to mention all who have contributed to the production of this yearbook, I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the following: The Coca-Cola Bottling Company for its permission to use its song title for our theme; Mr. Frank Wright, yearbook representative for getting us started; Miss Blenda Kuhlmann, our adviser, for her time and patience; the 1972 GRIZZLY PRODUCTION STAFF: Cliff Harder, who doubled as page editor and photographer, Rita Fehrenbach, and Michelle Hepler. Special staff members were Marge LaForest, our typist, and David Voth who volunteered his help. No yearbook would be complete without pictures, and our thanks go to Mr. Bill Bidwell and his photographers: Tony Harris,

Buford Pringle, Nolan Faidley, and Mike Scully, to mention a few, who have kept us supplied with pictures. Cooperation from clubs and sponsors here on campus has also helped us. But my most sincere thanks go to all of YOU — the individuals here at BCCJC who had to endure having your pictures taken, even retaken, so that we could give you something to cherish.

Linda Coons
1972 GRIZZLY Editor
